C. AND M. ALLIANCE CONVENTION

The Origin and Growth of the Organization Within Twenty Years.

Written for the Telegram.

The Christain and Missionary Alliance, which holds a convention in Greensboro th's week, is a comparatively new society. Less than twenty years ago, Rev. A. B. Simpson was pastor of a Presbyterian church in New York city. He was so broken down in health that he could preach but once a week, and even then was obliged to take frequent and prolonged vacations. He suffered extremely from heart disease, which threatened to take his life at any moment. Casting himself entirely upon the Lord for the health of his body he received strength to do an amount of work that is truly marvelous, and the Lord has continued giving him that strength till today. He began then to teach what is known as the "Four-fold Gospel," Christ the Saviour, Sanctifier, Healer and Coming Lord. Resigning his pastorate, which brought him $5,000 a year, he began preaching among the masses in New York city, who never go to church. In theatres and other buildings he preached and many souls were saved; and with these he organized a church which is known as the gospel tabernacle, located on Eighth Avenue, near Forty-fourth street. From his pulpit there hangs the embroidered motto, "Jesus Only," could so fully state the characteristics of his preaching.

As God had so wonderfully blessed his ministry of the Word friends outside of the city invited him to give them one or more days, teaching in in their towns these same truths which God had so signally blessed in the metropolis. In this way the work has extended until it is represented in almost every city in the Union, and hundreds of ministers, many of them pastors of various denominations, are associated with him in the work.

About twelve years ago, realizing that the Lord's return is delayed because of the nations not yet evangelized (Matt. 24:14) and feeling that there are many young men and women possibly of less intellectual training than is required by most of the missionary boards, who, filled with the Holy Ghost, might be effective witnesses amongst the heathen, and at less expense than has usually been thought necessary, he and his associates organized the Missionary Alliance, which has since been incorporated as one with the parent society, the Christian Alliance. They now have missionaries in India, China, Japan, Africa (on the Congo and in the Western Sudan) in South America and the West Indies, in all upwards of three hundred missionaries. The speakers who are to be here on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week are today in two conventions, one at Roanoke, Va., the other at Winston.

Capt. Leary to be Relieved.

Washington, March 20—Captain Leary United States Navy, will probably be relieved of his duties as governor of Guam. His orders caused offense. He explains that his order prohibiting the ringing of the church bells was on account of seventeen cases of typhoid fever at the American marine garrison. He has been instructed to amend the order abolishing custom and suspending all labor on church feast days. The governor's order abolishing slavery in Guam is approved.

It comprises Chancellorsville, Salem Church, Fredericksburg, Spottsylvania Court House, the Wilderness and other battlefields in Virginia.

Wit Mr. Beecher Kept In.

Ladies Home Journal.

In the early days of Mr. Beecher's career when wit was unknown in the pulpit, some of the deacons of his church asked him if he didn't think such frequent outbursts of humor were calculated to diminish his usefulness. He listened patiently, and when they finished he said: "Brethern, if you only knew how many funny things I keep in, you wouldn't complain about the few I let out.

THE PLAN TO PACIFY AFRICA.

BRITISH WILL TRY TO INDUCE SOLDIERS TO BECOME SETTLERS.

Alarm in London Over the Russian Crisis—Boers Abandon Mafeking, Perhaps—Dr. Leyd's Yarn.

London, March 20—Persistent rumors are in circulation that Boers, fearing that they will be intercepted by the force sent out by Roberts, have abandoned the seige of Mafeking and retreated to Pretoria. It is certain that Mafeking must be relieved shortly, and that if the Boers maintain the investment they are in danger of annihilation. The war office makes no announcement of Mafeking's safety, but declares its belief that the position of the beseiged forces is satisfactory.

Kitchener has entered Prieska without opposition. The insurgents have laid down their arms.

Serious alarm is felt here over the Anglo-Russian crisis. The new battleship Goliath and the new cruiser Argonaut, the destroyers Otter and Jannus and the sloop Rosari were today ordered to China.

Considerable interest is attached to the fact that the Johannesburg correspondent, commenting upon the reported consultation between the German ambassador to America and Secretary Hay regarding the urging of both belligerents to leave Johannesburg alone, the Pall Mall Gazette pronounces it a glorious yarn manufactured by Dr. Leyds.

The government plan to pacify South Africa is to increase the number of British subjects there. The Dutch at present are in a great majority. Every effort will be made to induce reserves whose time has expired, volunteers, and colonials from abroad to settle in South Africa as soon as the war is over. Half a section of land will be given each provided he will occupy it ten years.

GUILFORD-WHITSETT BALL GAME

The Whitsett Boys Highly Compliment Their Opponents.

Correspondence of the Telegram.

Whitsett, March 19—The game between Guilford College and Whitsett Institute has been played, and is now a thing of the past. In the first place we want to notice that the young men from Guilford College deported themselves as gentlemen; not at any time would you hear coming from their mouths profane and vulgar language.

Guilford plays clean ball and deserves credit. The grounds (though every one said we could never play) soon become dry, and by two o'clock was in excellent condition. The game went as follows: Whitsett takes the bat. Farrel fans, Roach repeats his colleague's style, Blockman knocks fowl and is out, Hammond scores, as did Jim Fox. Score—Guildford 2, Whitsett 0. When Whitsett reaches home and Shaw knocks a two bagger; Stewart goes out. Johnson gets to first on nice sacrifice hit. Shaw goes to third. Barnhartt fans. Guilford now tries her hand. Cummings gets to first, while Dalton scores. C. Fox, makes home. Love make nice hit and gets home. Cummings is out on second. Hammond fans. J. Fox strikes three times in air. Score—Guildford 5, Whitsett 0. Burnett makes fine hit and makes first. Cheek punches, Farrel sighes. Burnett out at third. Landreth makes first on account of an error by third base man, Daniels scores, Dalton punches, C. Fox gets first. Daniels scores, Landereth runs in. Jim Fox fans. Score—Guildford 7, Whitsett 0. Blockman fans. Shaw makes first base easily. Stewart makes second base. Shaw gets out on third base, Stewart gets out at second. Hammond gets first but is put out. Jno. Fox reaches first, but is put out at second. Landreth fans. Score 7 to 0. Burnhardt bunts. Burnett gets to first. Cheek gives away, while Farrel fans. Daniels hits three hard licks but in vain. Dalton goes out. Fox rushes to first, while Love goes out. Roach goes to first, while Blockman fans Shaw makes two base hit, while Roach makes to third. Stewart knocks ball to left field, and Roach scores Johnson gives, while Barnhartt repeats. Score, Guildford 7 Whitsett 1

We would like very much to give you the details of the game but have not space. This is score by innings.

PEARSON CLOSED SUNDAY.

There Were Over 300 Conversions During the Meeting.

Correspondence of the Telegram.

High Point, March 19—Last night closed the series of meetings which have been in progress for the past two weeks. Mr Pearson took his text from Numbers 5, part of the sixth and seventh verses, preaching on confession. There was a wonderful outpouring of the Holy Spirit at this meeting—at least one hundred and fifty people gave their hearts to God. The number converted during the meeting probably reaches three hundred or more. Mr. Pearson has faithfully performed his work here, preaching the gospel in a plain, simple way to dying men and women. His visit here will no doubt be of lasting good to the people of High Point and the town at large. Mr. and Mrs. Pearson are spending today here, resting and packing up. They will leave tomorrow for Greenville, S. C., where they will remain a few days before Mr. Pearson commences his meeting in Alabama. They carry with them the prayers and best wishes of all of our good citizens.

Evangelist W. P. Fife spent yesterday here. Mr. Fife recently conducted a meeting at Carlisle, Pa.

W. H Dudley, the fruit, confectionery and notion dealer, has moved from the basement under the High Point House to the Suits building, recently occupied by Mr. White, the restaurateur.

Jess Edmunson, the barber, has not found any trace of his bicycle since it was stolen Wednesday night. The frame of the wheel is painted green and the owner would appreciate any information as to its whereabouts.

A negro by the name of Lee Campbell works for Perrow Johns, tending his horse and doing other jobs. Yesterday morning about feed time Lee decided to have a ride. He bridled the horse and was enjoying himself on the animal's back at the time the owner went to the stable and found his horse gone. Officers were notified and in a few minutes, on a back street, bagged their game. It is not known whether the negro intended keeping the horse or not, but it is more than likely he did not. He was turned loose at the request of Mr. Johns.

An old lady, of Quaker faith, who is said to be worth more than a million dollars, was here yesterday en route to her home in Boston from Pinehurst, where she has been spending several days.

Ready to Strike.

As Mr. W. D. McAdoo started to enter his gate Sunday night, after returning from Pearson's meeting in High Point, he saw a man standing behind a tree ready to strike him as he passed. Mr. McAdoo grabbed a loose piece of fencing and started for the man, who made tracks. It is supposed it was his intention to knock Mr. McAdoo down and rob him.

THE OCEAN PEDDLER.

IN CONTRABAND GOODS HE FINDS GREATEST PROFITS.

Methods of Trading Vessels That Go to Many Out of the Way Corners of the World—How the Captain Disposes of His Cargo.

The man with a pack on his back, trudging from village to village and offering for sale at cottage and farmhouse a miscellaneous collection of wares, has his counterpart in the ocean peddler, ranging in size from a schooner trading among the islands of the Pacific to a steamer of 1,000 to 2,000 tons burden.

The ocean peddler starts out from Hamburg or San Francisco, the chief home ports of the trade, with a definite object in view. Sailing from the former city the course is generally laid either to the coast of Africa or South America, having in the hold a varied assortment of goods likely to be marketable in the regions visited—cotton fabrics, trinkets, arms, ammunition, liquors and all spare room filled up with coal.

As the largest profits are often derived from the sale of contraband goods, such as munitions of war to insurgent bodies, and as detection by regular authorities would lead to confiscation, several thousand rounds of cartridges are probably done up in innocent looking cases stamped "Canned Beef" and a few stands of discarded German army rifles in packages labeled "Glass. With Care."

The captain of such a vessel must possess not only ability as a navigator, but an expert knowledge of the requirements of his trade in addition to a plausible tongue wherewith to barter and win over the good will of an ill disposed official. If he does not own an interest in the ship, it is generally required that he shall in her cargo.

Trudging along over the ocean at a seven or eight knot gait, saving his coal as much as possible, the peddler opens his trade by casting anchor in, say, a South or Central American port, when, having squared the commandant, he invites merchants and others on board to inspect his stock. Duty, of course, has to be paid by the purchaser, but in certain cases that difficulty is often overcome by the visitor to the ship going ashore swollen out perhaps to three times his normal size by as many new suits of clothing.

The greatest good fortune that can fall in the way of an ocean peddler is for an American or British man-of-war to put into some out of the way port in which he is lying, short of coal. Then from his spare stock he sells a few hundred tons at as hard a bargain as the necessity of the purchaser permits him to drive.

On the Central American coast the peddler usually times his visit at about the opening of the coffee season—that is, early in the new year—so that when he has sold out his wares he is able to load up, almost to the water line, with the principal export of the country.

That the ocean peddling trade is not without its dangers is illustrated by a story told by a mate of one of those vessels. In order to preserve his respectable character the contraband goods are sometimes stored in places likely to escape the vigilant eye of the customs officer, and in the case in question the mate's bunk was chosen as the safest repository for certain packages of dynamite consigned to the leaders of a Nicaraguan revolution.

All went well until the night before the ship was due to arrive at her destination, when a thunderstorm occurred, the lightning playing about the masts in an alarming manner. The mate confessed that the idea of turning in upon a bed of dynamite under such circumstances was not conducive to peaceful repose even to one accustomed to sleep through all manner of dangers, but with the reflection that if a flash found its way to his bunk he would not be likely to be made aware of the fact he slumbered serenely through his watch below and next day delivered the "canned tomatoes" safely to the consignee.

The ocean peddling trade on the Pacific has been shorn of much of its profit since the interisland passenger traffic in natives, who too often were carried as passengers, much against their will, to dive for pearls on the great Australian bank, has been effectually suppressed. Still a considerable trade is carried on in small articles of hardware, old clothes, personal trinkets and an occasional case of "dry goods," which, if seized, would turn out to be remarkably wet.—New York Sun.

Old German Wash Lists.

The old German housewife had a strange way of keeping track of the clothes she gave out to be washed. It was nothing less than a pictorial and perpetual wash list. There was no possibility of making such an error as to mistake the abbreviation Sh. for shirts or St. for stockings. She had pictures of each article and simply wrote down the number of each thing opposite its picture with a piece of chalk, which was erased when the thing was returned and used again on the following week.—Cleveland Leader.

Newspaper Guideposts.

Wendell Phillips struck the keynote in modern influences when he said: "Not one man in ten reads books; the newspaper is parent, school, college, pulpit, theater, example, counselor, all in one; every drop of our blood is colored by it. Let me make the newspapers, and I care not who makes the religion or the laws."

Paris is capricious even in the matter of her public statues, which are being constantly dethroned and others set up in their places. The deposed ones are stowed away, and there are yards at Auteuil full of them.

A SAMPLE OF DITCH THEOLOGY.

From a neighboring town paper we clip the following article, and in reproducing it we omit the name of the "celebrated evangelist" because we wish to speak generally of a class and not of an individual of that class. The paper says:

Mr. ——, formerly an actor and play writer, now a celebrated evangelist, delivered his famous lecture to men only at Masonic hall yesterday afternoon to a large and appreciative audience. The hall was packed to the doors with interested men, who gave the lecturer their closest attention, and followed him in his masterful array of naked truth in language striking, yet chaste and beautiful.

Mr. —— is remarkably versatile—moving his audience with perfect ease from the tenderest pathos to the livliest and most refreshing wit. His powers seem to have no bounds, and his lecture was full of human nature, the kind that appeals to the heart and softens it. He is a born orator and one of the brightest entertainers we have seen in the lecture field. Imbued with the spirit of brotherly love and endowed with eloquence of speech, Mr. —— is destined to become a factor for all that is good, wherever he raises his voice. His lecture yesterday will never be forgotten by those who heard it.

The paper lays on much lighter than usual the praise which this class of "celebrated evangelists" are able to command in some way. We happened to hear this particular one once, on a Sunday, and never a more disgusting thing could have been listened to. The nastiest jokes, the most vulgar attempts at wit, and the hardest effort after money in the after collection were the chief points. It has come about to the place that if a fellow can prove that he has been a sot and has a nasty tongue and a sharp wit, he can make people believe that the hand of God snatched him out of the gutter and placed him in the pulpit, and his course in the ditch is often considered a superior preparation to a course in a seminary. One of the characteristics of this class is their unbounded egotism and they put on their blackguardism as the only brand of 'old time religion." If the people would have less to do with these peripatetic mud mills, there would be fewer investigations, scandals and the like. There is not on earth a more faithful, earnest, consecrated and useful set of men than are our ministers, those who live among us and do their work in the ordained ways of their various churches, and it's unjust to them, to put it on a higher ground, to give countenance to strolling blacklegs, who are responsible to nothing or nobody under heaven.

In his sermon at the opening of yesterday's session of the New Jersey Methodist conference, Bishop Hurst said that President McKinley would, at the conclusion of his service as a public officer, accept the position of professor of international law in the American University at Washington. Thus the unsettled question which consumed much of the gray matter of the country some years ago, as to what we should do with our ex-presidents, like all other questions will do if a fair time allowance is given them, is settling itself. Ex-presidents, to be in good form hereafter, will confine their efforts to lawin', fishin' and teachin'.

Live progressive advertisers do as much to push their communities forward as any other agency. They advertise their goods and they advertise their town. Advertise your town, make the world think about you and they will talk about you.—Winston Journal.

There is little doubt that outside people judge of the business of a town largely by the advertising matter which its papers carry. If a paper goes out without having a good representation of the business of the place in its columns, the public will inevitably get the idea that business in that town is slow and the business people are, to say the least, far from being live ones.

GRACEFULLY DONE.

We have not for sometime seen anything more gracefully done than was the withdrawals from the gubernatorial race first by Mr. M. H. Justice, and then last Saturday, by Col. J. S. Cunningham. When these gentlemen realized that Mr. Aycock was in the lead and that by staying in the contest they would have only a disturbing influence with only a narrow chance, each of them preferred to sacrifice that chance for the sake of harmony and accordingly withdrew. If there were anything wanting to prove the fine sense, discrimination and patriotism of these gentlemen, their actions in this instance would furnish it.

It has been fairly apparent from the beginning that Mr. Aycock would win the nomination and being convinced that their chances at best depended upon accident, and that by trying to force that accident, so to speak, the harmony and good feeling of the party might be injured, these gentlemen came down gracefully in announcements that have the ring of sincerity in them. There is nothing so troublesome in a time like this as a multiplicity of candidates, and we are now happily relieved of that predicament as regards the head of the ticket. Justice and Cunningham will, by the way, be remembered by democrats.

A Washington dispatch says:

It required over fifteen hours to read the bill for the government of Alaska in the senate. The readings continued at odd times for a week, and during its reading only Senator Carter in charge of the bill, and Senator Bate opposed to it, were present. All the senate clerks were worn out.

We should like to ecquire whether that bill is passed with the "consent of the governed" or not.

A CARD FROM MR. STIMSON.

Says the Scandalous Reports Regarding Rev. J. W. Lee are False.

To the Editor of the Telegram.

Washington, February 28—The slanderous article in a late issue of your paper accredited to the correspondent of the Asheville Gazette, and commented upon by your paper and other papers in the state derogatory to the character of Rev. J. W. Lee, of Greensboro, is deserving of the strongest condemnation and the most emphatic denial. The writer, well knowing the former good ministerial work and reputation of Mr. Lee in his adopted state, without solicitation, having heard of the slanderous statements, has made a careful investigation of the charges alleged, with the assistance of several responsible men, some of whom are ministers of the M. E. Church of this city, and I wish to submit the following:

The article in question says that "the Rev. J. W. Lee is living with a party who was first represented as his wife and later as his 'dear ward.'" This is a malicious falsehood. The article above referred to further says that "the (Mr. Lee) has for some time been living with the 'woman in the case' in a room over a clothing store on Pennsylvania avenue. Lee evidently came here with the intention of painting the town a deep vermillion, for after establishing the harem referred to he set about raising money so he could live like one of the boys. It is said that he has long since mastered all the intricacies of the art of begging, and has collected in this manner as much as seventy-five dollars a week." To be brief and emphatic, the foregoing is another compounded and malicious lie.

I have met the young lady who is alluded to in this vile slander, and can say with many others here, that she is a lady in every respect and above reproach. She has been rooming and boarding, ever since she came here, at the Women's Christian Home, until quite recently, on account of the distance from her place of employment she moved to a private boarding house on 11th street, northwest. It is a shame that she should have been thus maligned and persecuted by trashy newspaper correspondents, and others of evil intententions. She feels aggrieved and mortified at the publicity given this slander and I believe any fairminded person, knowing the facts, would defend an innocent woman against such vile and dirty assaults.

Mr. Lee would make affidavit that he had never received from any man, any money by way of a loan or gift since he come here last October—except the sum of $5.00 presented him by a friend from North Carolina.

I enclose a note from Rev. J. E. Irwin, a highly respected minister of the M. E. church in this city, now nearing his three score and ten years of age, who has made a close and searching investigation of this matter, which gives the facts in the case in detail, and anything that I might add would be superfluous. As this matter has been given so much publicity in the press of the state, I hope that in justice to Mr. Lee, his family and all interested in this matter, that you will give space in your paper for what Dr. Irwin has to say. Fiat justitia rust celum.

E. D. Stinson.

824 9th, St. N. W.

313, D. St. N. W., Washington, Feb. 26—Mr. E. D. Stimson. Dear Sir: In reply to your inquires about what I know about the recent reports charging the Rev. J. W. Lee with immoral or doubtful conduct in this city. I assure you that before I heard from you I had given said reports a thorough investigation and had availed myself of all I could learn about them in several private conversations with two other M. E. Ministers who are pastors of churches in this city and who had also given them the most thorough investigation that seemed to be possible, and by my thorough knowledge of the case thus acquired I am fully convinced that the said reports are utterly untrue and had no foundation whatever, except the false statements of a woman that we believe, from her own statements to be a person of immoral character and a self-convicted liar.

The man that carried her story to Senator Pritchard confessed to us that he knew nothing about it only from hearsay, so the whole stories rest on the manifest falsehoods of that woman alone.

These two ministers and myself in conference together on the case, found that part of what that woman had said was contradicted by what we know to be the facts in the case, and the rest of her reports were too absurd to be believed by any person of common sense.

To believe anything against Rev. J. M. Lee's moral character on such testimony would be contrary to the laws of God and man. Yours,

F. E. Irvine.

P. S.—I have been a minister in the M. E. Church for nearly 40 years. I certify that the above is a true copy of my original letter.

Another Expansion.

It will be of interest to the readers of this paper who use McElree's Wine of Cardui in their homes to know that the sale of this remedy has so increased during the past year that the manufacturers have again had to increase their capacity by the addition of another large building. It has often been said that an article that finds favor with the ladies is sure to achieve great success. No more striking examples of this could be found than the history of Wine of Cardui. From thousands of ladies' letters received by the manufacturers, the following are selected:

From Mrs. Mary Pankowski, 33 Rose street, Chicago, Ill.

I have taken a bottle of Wine of Cardui and feel much better than when I wrote you. I did not have any pains at my last monthly period.

From Mrs. M. A. Thompson, Kalamazoo, Mich.

I suffered from what was supposed to be tumor of the womb, but have taken five bottles of Wine of Cardui and am almost cured.

From Mrs. J. L. Todd, Staley, S. C.

I do not think I would have been living if I had not taken Wine of Cardue. We desired a child very much, and I now have a baby seven months old.

From Mrs. W. S. Harris, 715 Walker street, Kansas City, Kans.

I have tried Wine of Cardui, and found it to be the greatest medicine on earth for female troubles.

A NIGHT OF TERROR.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham, of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning" writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from Pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had more than once saved her life, and had cured her of consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Only 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

J. R. Holland, of Charlotte, who several years ago was sentenced to imprisonment on the charge of embezzlement, has been released, his term having expired. He left Albany Friday a free man. President McKinley refused to restore him to citizenship. Mr. Holland will return to his home in Charlotte soon.

It's just the girl who delights to hear her fiance swear he'd work day and night for her," says the Manayunk Philosopher, "that raises the biggest howl in after years when he comes homes with a tale about being detained at the office."

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and sufferings. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine, and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. HIS LIFE WAS SAVED.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

It's only fair to suppose that the homely woman would put a better face on the situation if she were able.

Mrs. Calvin Zimmerman, Milesburg, Pa., says: "As a speedy cure for coughs, colds, croup and sore throat One Minute Cough Cure is unexcelled. It is pleasant for children to take. We heartily recommend it to mothers." It is the only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. It cures bronchitis, pneumonia, grippe and lung diseases. It will prevent consumption. Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, of 1125 Howard st., Philadelphi, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure—"it soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the Universe." So will every one who tries Dr. Kings' New Discovery for any trouble of the Throat, Chest or Lungs. Price 50c. and $1! A LIFE AND DEATH FIGHT.

Mr. W. A. Hines, of Manchester, Iowa, writing of his almost miraculous escape from death says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even if cost $5 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure throat, chest and lung troubles." Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. An Editor's Life Saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"During the early part of October, 1899, I contracted a bad cold, which settled on my lungs and was neglected until I feared that consumption had appeared in an incipient state. I was constantly coughing and trying to expel something which I could not. I became alarmed and after giving the local doctor a trial bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the result was immediate improvement, and after I had used three bottles my lungs were restored to their healthy state.—B. "I Thought I Would Never Be Well Again."

One of the saddest things that can happen to a woman is to fall into such a depth of despondency through unnatural weakness and disease as to imagine that she can never recover. "For two years," says Mrs. W. G. Day, of Trussville, Jefferson Co., Ala. "I had suffered with weakness, headache, pain in my back and side, which would become so sore that I could hardly bear the weight of my hand on it. I had cold hands and feet and many other bad symptoms too numerous to mention. Home physicians' treatment did me no good. I had become very despondent and thought I would never be well again.

"But with a faint heart I wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and described my symptoms as best I could. He promptly answered by letter, and sent me a treatise on 'Woman and Her Diseases'; he also outlined a treatment for me which I followed to the best of my ability, and after taking six bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription,' I can truthfully say that I felt like a new woman. In a few months afterwards, when I was suffering with the many troubles due to pregnancy, I procured 'Favorite Prescription' again and took it through that time. I soon became very stout and felt well. I was in labor only a short time and got along well: better than I ever did before. My baby is a fine boy, now two months old, and has never been sick any. I cannot find words sufficient to express my praise of Dr. Pierce's medicine. I never miss an opportunity to recommend it. I hope all suffering ladies will consult him, for they will be benefited by taking his medicine."

Letters to Dr. Pierce are treated in the most sacred confidence, and never published without permission, and the most careful, professional advice is given by return mail free of charge.

Women would understand their own mental and physical natures better; they would make better wives and mothers; they would be every way healthier, happier, and more capable, by reading and studying Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated book, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is a veritable, complete family medical library in one magnificent volume. More than half a million copies have been sold at $1.50 each, but a free copy, paper-bound, will be sent to any woman on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of mailing only; or if a heavier, handsome cloth-bound book is preferred, send 31 stamps.

SCROFULA AND ITS AWFUL HORRORS

—CURED BY—

Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES.

A MOST WONDERFUL CURE.

A Grand Old Lady Gives Her Experience.

Mrs. Thankful Orilla Hurd lives in the beautiful village of Brighton, Livingston Co., Mich. This venerable and highly respected lady was born in the year 1812, the year of the great war, in Hebron, Washington Co., New York. She came to Michigan in 1840, the year of "Tippecanoe and Tyler too." All her faculties are excellently preserved, and possessing a very retentive memory, her mind is full of interesting reminiscences of her early life, of the early days of the State of Michigan and the interesting and remarkable people she has met, and the stirring events of which she was a witness. But nothing in her varied and manifold recollections are more marvelous and worthy of attention than are her experiences in the use of JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA. Mrs. Hurd inherited a tendency and predisposition to scrofula, that terribly destructive blood taint which has cursed and is cursing the lives of thousands and marking thousands more as victims of the death angel. Transmitted from generation to generation, it is found in nearly every family in one form or another. It may make its appearance in dreadful running sores, in unsightly swellings in the neck or goitre, or in eruptions of varied forms. Attacking the mucous membrane, it may be known as catarrh in the head, or developing in the lungs it may be, and often is, the prime cause of consumption.

Speaking of her case, Mrs. Hurd says: "I was troubled for many years with a bad skin disease. My arms and limbs would break out in a mass of sores, discharging yellow matter. My neck began to swell and became very unsightly in appearance. My body was covered with scrofulous eruptions. My eyes were also greatly inflamed and weakened, and they pained me very much. My blood was in a very bad condition and my head ached severely at frequent intervals, and I had no appetite. I had sores also in my ears. I was in a miserable condition. I had tried every remedy that had been recommended, and doctor after doctor had failed. One of the best physicians in the state told me I must die of scrofulous consumption, as internal abcesses were beginning to form. I at length was told of Dr. Johnston, of Detroit, and his famous Sarsaparilla. I tried a bottle, more as an experiment than anything else, as I had no faith in it, and greatly to my agreeable surprise, I began to grow better. You can be sure I kept on taking it. I took a great many bottles. But I steadily improved until I became entirely well. All the sores healed up, all the bad symptoms disappeared. I gained perfect health, and I have never been troubled with scrofula since. Of course an old lady of 83 years is not a young woman, but I have had remarkably good health since then, and I firmly believe that JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA is the greatest blood purifier and the best medicine in the wide world, both for scrofula and as a spring medicine." This remarkably interesting old lady did not lok to be more than sixty, and she repeated several times, "I believe my life was saved by JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA."

THE REV. CHARLES M. SHELDON AND HIS WORLD FAMOUS STORIES.

Career of the Author of "Robert Hardy's Seven Days," "In His Steps" and "The Crucifixion of Philip Strong"—His Attempt to Run a Newspaper as Jesus Would.

Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, whose attempt to run a Topeka newspaper as Christ would, has attracted widespread attention and is a most interesting personality. He might be preaching to great audiences in a rich church, he might be making an immense fortune simply by collecting royalties on books whose editions run into the millions of copies, or he might be on the lecture platform receiving the plaudits of the people of great cities, but he is content to remain pastor of a modest church in Topeka and do his work as he did it before his name became known in many lands.

Here is the story of his career: He was born in Wellsville, N. Y., in 1857. While he was still a very small boy his parents removed to Dakota. His father was a minister who farmed weekdays and preached in a little church on Sunday. The Sheldon farm was just outside of Yankton, and there the man who was to write "Robert Hardy's Seven Days," "In His Steps" and "The Crucifixion of Philip Strong" spent most of his boyhood. It was farm work which built up the broad shoulders and developed the muscular limbs of the man who has become the foremost of religious authors.

As a boy Mr. Sheldon went to school in Yankton. Even at that time he had begun to write stories. They were printed in the local paper, some of them. "And they were just as good," says his father, "as those he writes now."

As his father was anxious for him to become a minister, the young man went east and entered Phillips academy, Andover, Mass., where thousands of theological students are trained. Later he took a course at Brown university and then returned to the Andover Theological seminary.

After a summer in Europe he entered the ministry and began preaching in Waterbury, Vt. But the spirit of the west was in him, so when he received a call to become the pastor of the newly established Central Congregational church, in Topeka, in 1888, he gladly accepted it as the opening he had been waiting for.

Most men would not have thought the outlook an inviting one. The little congregation of 60 had no church building, but held services in a dingy little hall over a grocery store. But he went to work with a will. As a result of his energetic methods the little hall was soon abandoned and a substantial stone church erected. The congregation was increased to 300. It was not a rich or fashionable congregation, nor is it today, but it is very much alive.

Early in his pastorate Mr. Sheldon began to employ strikingly original methods. He was not satisfied with the kind of work usually done by ministers. He wanted to know what ideas the masses of the people had on the subject of Christianity, and he wanted to find out about their daily lives and occupations.

With this desire in his heart he asked his congregation to excuse him from pastoral work for three months, and his congregation saw little of him except during church services. He was at home scarcely any of the time, but very few people knew what he was doing. It was characteristic of the man. He was "getting acquainted."

Topeka is the headquarters of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad. Hundreds of men are employed in the railroad shops, and hundreds of trainmen make their headquarters there. It was among these that Mr. Sheldon spent much of his time.

He obtained an employee's pass from the railroad company, and, dressed as an employee, he made trips up and down the road in company with the trainmen, learning their ways and drawing out their ideas on every conceivable subject, especially on religion.

After that he spent a week or two with the physicians of Topeka, studying them. He read their books and visited their patients with them. Another week was spent with the lawyers in their offices and in court.

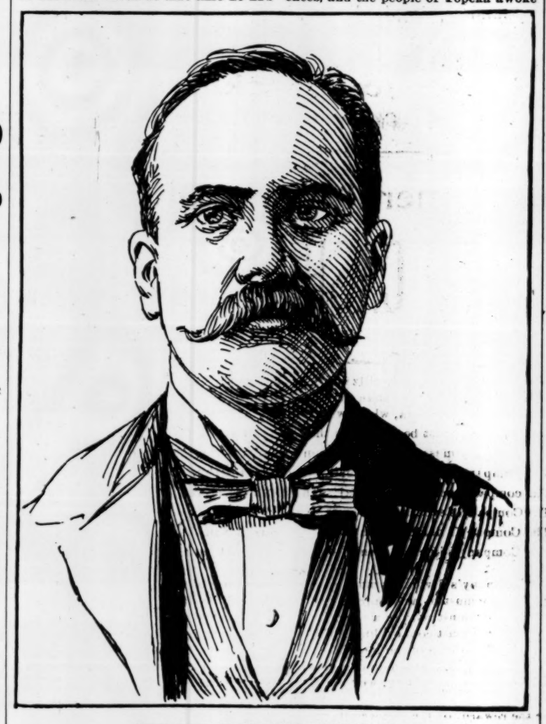
In the hard times of 1893 Mr. Sheldon received many applications for aid from persons who were out of employment. He determined to find out for himself whether or not employment could be secured by a common laborer, and, putting on a suit of clothes, he started out in search of it. Every one who ever employed labor received a call from him, but he was invariably turned away with the information that no laborers were needed. On the following Sunday he related his experiences, and the people of Topeka awoke to the fact that an unusual sort of preacher was among them.

Then he wrote his stories—those which preceded "In His Steps"—and read them from the pulpit, one installment at a time, instead of delivering sermons. He interested his congregation in his plan to regenerate "Tennessetown," one of the squalid suburbs of Topeka.

Such is the outline of the career which has brought him fame. He is a hard worker and lives modestly. He has a wife and one child, a boy of 2 years. His father also lives near him in Topeka and helps him with his work.

Although Mr. Sheldon has written a dozen books, he is known best as the author of "In His Steps." The work was not copyrighted in England, and 20 publishing houses there are still issuing editions. It has been translated into French, German, Russian, Italian, Armenian, Swedish, Norwegian, Spanish and dialects of western Africa. Mr. Sheldon is by nature a retiring man and almost dreads notoriety. When told that the people who read his books would like to know about the author, he said: "That is mere idle curiosity. I do not wish to be talked about or to have my church work talked about. The message I have for these people among whom I live I give in my sermons. The message I have for the world at large I give in my books. I have nothing more to say."

Although he avoids notoriety, he is willing to speak when an opportunity presents itself to further the cause of religion or humanity. He believes in municipal ownership of public utilities and has studied the subject at home and abroad. He affiliates with no political party, but in local campaigns has made speeches in favor of public ownership. He believes that water, heat and light plants, together with street car lines, should be operated by cities.



THE REV. CHARLES M. SHELDON.

The attempt of Mr Sheldon to run a daily newspaper last week as Jesus would do has attracted attention all over the world, and made Mr Sheldon and his ideas interesting. The Telegram has just purchased and will run serially a new and facinating story of this author. Look out for the opening chapters.

Baldness Can be Cured

just so long as there is a particle of vitality left in the hair roots. The fact that the head is smooth and shining is no positive proof that the roots beneath are dead.

Deep down beneath the skin, hair roots may yet exist, filled with latent vitality, and all that is required to develop them into a beautiful head of hair is the faithful application of the proper agents.

Seven Sutherland Sisters' preparations furnish the easiest, surest and quickest way to ascertain if there is or is not latent life beneath a head bare of hair. Why not try them?

WINE OF CARDUI

THE LINK THAT BINDS.

JACKSON, TENN., Nov. 28.

I was subject to miscarriage for three years, and suffered constantly with backache. I wrote to you for advice, and after using three bottles of Wine of Cardui, according to your directions, I am strong and well, and the mother of a fine girl baby.

Mrs. E. N. JOWERS.

Wine of Cardui

There is no use talking—a baby in the house is the link that binds husband and wife together. Nothing is sadder than fruitless wedlock. The prattling and cooing of the little ones offset a thousand times the occasional worries and trials of life. When a wife is barren, there is a derangement somewhere in the genital organs, caused by one or more of those common disorders known as "female troubles". Wine of Cardui is the remedy. It puts the organs of generation in a strong and healthy condition, fitting the wife for the sacred duty of reproducing her kind. During the period of gestation the entire system of the expectant mother is built up to withstand the ordeal of labor, and when the little one makes its advent it is lusty and strong, well-fitted to grow to maturity in perfect health. The mother, too, passes through the trial with little pain and no dread. Wine of Cardui is truly a wonderful medicine for women.

PREVENTED A TRAGEDY.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, O., prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had kept her awake every night. She tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr King's New Discovery. One bottle cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1 00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at C. E. Little Pimples Turn to Cancer.

Cancer often results from an impurity in the blood, inherited from generations back. Few people are entirely free from some taint in the blood, and it is impossible to tell when it will break out in the form of dreaded Cancer. What has appeared to be a mere pimple or scratch has developed into the most malignant Cancer.

"I had a severe Cancer which was at first only a few blotches, that I thought would soon pass away. I was treated by several able physicians, but in spite of their efforts the Cancer spread until my condition became alarming. After many months of treatment and growing steadily worse, I decided to try S. S. S. which was so strongly recommended. The first bottle produced an improvement. I continued the medicine, and in four months the last little scab dropped off. Ten years have elapsed, and not a sign of the disease has returned."

E. F. WILLIAMS,
Gillsburg, Miss.

It is dangerous to experiment with Cancer. The disease is beyond the skill of physicians. S. S. S. is the only cure, because it is the only remedy which goes deep enough to reach Cancer.

A COFFEE POT DECANTER

Three Retailers of the Ardent Arrested Last Night.

The old house on Gaston street near Greene, and near the Episcopal church, has long been a suspicious place, and an old colored woman living there has been up more than once for selling whiskey. An eye has been kept on the place lately by Chief Scott, and last night he concluded the place was about ripe enough to pull. He went around in person and by quietly moving an old shutter and holding a curtain aside with a small stick he saw Tom Turner in the act of pouring out drinks and taking in the money. A coffee pot was used for a decanter and Tom was doing a flourishing business, having quite a crowd around him.

Mr. Scott withdrew a short distance, called up Officer Cates and together they went back. Part of the crowd had dispersed, but Tom was arrested and a search made of the house. Besides the coffee p t a five gallon keg was found nearly full of corn whiskey, which the officers seized.

Officer Jeffries arrested Wm. Clay, colored, for retailing in a lot in the rear of the dispensary. Clay furnished evidence which later led to the arrest of Ella Horton for retailing in the vicinity of the fire engine house. All three were given a hearing before the mayor this morning, which resulted in the release of William Clay; but Tom Turner and Ella Horton were sent on to court. Officer Jeffries carried them to jail at Winston this afternoon.

Questions of Rocks.

To the Editor of the Telegram:

The two piles of rock still remain at the corner of Sycamore and South Elm streets. Are they on exhibition on account of any geological interest? If so why not send them down to the state museum at Raleigh. As it is they are not things of beauty and are obstructions to traffic.

A Pastoral.

The sun was slowly setting o'er the hills so far away, filling all the land with mystic beauty, at the close of last Saturday. The sentinel stars were setting their watch in the sky and the silvery moon, fair goddess of the night, was just rising in effulgent beauty from the eastern sky to keep her vigil o'er the sleeping villager, when two mules might have been seen hauling the "histing machine" down West Sycamore street. Thanks.

Will Not Move.

Notwithstanding the sale of the Allen House and lot to the Southern railway, Mr. Allen tells us he will continue as heretofore to feed the hungry at the same old stand, one block from the depot, and that patrons and friends will make no mistake to look for his sign and go right on as heretofore.

HEARD BLACKBURN'S SPEECH.

But Can't Clearly Recall His Reference to Kentucky and Goebel.

Mr. John A. Hendricks, of Marshall, N. C., a republican and a lawyer, was in the city this morning. To the Telegram he said the coming campaign would be a hot contest. He thinks a large majority of the voters in the Western part of the state are opposed to the constitutional amendment. He observed that the democrats are hot on Blackburn's trail with reference to his speech in Newton in which it is claimed he said "North Carolina democrats may take warning from the fate of Wm. Goebel."

Mr. Hendricks says he heard Senator Pritchard's speech that day, and "at least a part of Mr. Blackburn's." When asked if he heard Mr. Blackburn say anything about the Kentucky situation of the fate of Goebel, Mr. Hendricks replied: "It seems to me that he said something about Kentucky, but really I cannot recall just what it was." The reporetr ventured the suggestion that Mr. Blackburn made a mistake in attempting a denial without telling exactly what he did say.

"Yes," quickly rejoined Mr. Hendricks, "I don't think I would have made any denial. Rather I would have "justified" by taking the moral ground that the passage of such laws (meaning evidently the election law) have a natural tendency to bring about such deplorable affairs as exist in Kentucky."

This might have been intended to let Mr. Blackburn down easy; but does it not help to fasten the charge upon him? If nothing like what has been charged was said, why should there be any attempt at justification. It is a little singular that no republican who heard the speech has yet come to the front with a definite recollection of exactly what Mr. Blackburn said.

BEN LACY HERE.

He Visits the Normal and Other Places in The City.

Hon. B. R. Lacy, labor commissioner of the state, was in the city last night and this morning, leaving at noon for Raleigh. While here he visited the State Normal and Industrial college. He is an old friend of Dr. McIver. In fact he has many friend here. "Ben" Lacy, as he is familiarly known, is a brother of the lamented Rev. Dr. W. S. Lacy, of the Presbyterian church. In the office of labor commissioner he has served most faithfully and efficiently. He is now an aspirant for the democratic nomination for state treasurer.

He visited the Masonic Lodge here last night to see Mayor Taylor take the first degree. After the degree work he delivered an address to the lodge that was full of instructions.

To a Telegram man today, Mr. Lacy said the constitutional amendment would be carried, but it would not be a walkover, and that much hard work must be done.

A RELIGIOUS PLAY.

"Quo Vadis" Handicapped by the Small Sized Stage.

Considering the weather, and the price of admission there was a large audience at the academy of music last night to see "Quo Vadis" as dramatized by Chas. W. Chase. It was presented by an exceptionally strong company, but the spectacular work was greatly handicapped by the small stage, the last act being particularly unsatisfactory on that account. The part of Marcus Vinicius, a Roman soldier, and that of Lygia, the Christian maiden, were well taken by John F. Palmer and Miss Hattie Bernard Chase, respectively. Lauren Reese, as Cains Petronius, was a favorite. The strong moral side of the play was prominent throughout. J. Sydney Macey, as Nero, was very good, but in the opinion of the writer, did not quite measure up to the others in the interpretation of his part.

THE RIGHT KIND.

Enterprises That Build Towns and Make Cities.

The Telegarm man has it from a reliable source that another manufacturing enterprise in the shape of a table foctory, will soon be started in Greensboro. The projectors and stockholders are well known business men. The total amount of capital necessary has about been subscribed, and the announcement of organization is expected in a few days.

And these are the kinds of enterprises that make towns of villages and cities of towns. More of them is the need of Greensboro. They bring in well paid labor. They increase business and they increase capital. They operate in various ways to benefit a town and community, as well as those directly interested in them. Let us have more of them.

Men read the news; women read the advertisements, especially the "bargain numbers." If it is bargains you are looking for, look no further. Here they are:

BROWN'S

Next to the Consumer

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity.

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

And ours is the place to get the stuff.
